

Phishing Alert

Jeanne D'Arc Credit Union has been made aware of the following phishing alert:

A credit union member (not a Jeanne D'Arc member) received a call from someone claiming to be from the CU ScoreCard program. The caller informed the member she had won 3 vacation packages and $1000.00 spending cash through the ScoreCard program. The caller also knew the first few digits of the card and asked the member to provide her full account number. At the end of the call, the "representative" gave the member a phone number of (407) 982-8000, extension# 123.

The phone number dials to a company called "One Destination," in Orlando, FL. ScoreCard has confirmed that it is not affiliated with this company and has not authorized them to make calls regarding the ScoreCard program or any other rewards/loyalty offers or giveaways.

DO NOT give out any account information if you receive such a call. This is a phishing attempt to procure confidential information.
